A doll and teddy bear museum, right in Santa Barbara.

Susan Quinlan Doll & Teddy Bear Museum & Library

Rating: A for it's theme of "love of reading"

Ages: All

Directions: Inland on Garden Street to Canon Perdido, turn left to 122 West Canon Perdido.

Contact: 730-1707 or www.quinlanmuseum.com

Season: Open 11 am-5 pm Friday through Monday and many holidays

Tip: This is a great activity for Grandma and Grandpa!

There are more than 3,000 dolls and teddy bears here! Also enjoy the space toys, puppets, gift shop and tea room for complimentary coffee and tea.

Opened in 2005, this facility displays historical dolls, contemporary dolls and ethnic dolls.

Since it's handicapped accessible, grandmothers and grandfathers of all types can join in on the fun.

You know if you've already "Googled" for something like this, you have to drive a long way to find something comparable!

There are three galleries, and exhibits change periodically, so keep checking in to see what's new!
