

H O M E T O W N

SANTA BARBARA

The Central Coast Book
2009 • 2010

If you've had just about enough of that pesky sunshine and great outdoors, duck inside to the Susan Quinlan Doll & Teddy Bear Museum & Library (122 West Canon Perdido, 805.730.1707, Quinlan-Museum.com), located near Paseo Nuevo mall, which offers plenty of parking. This is one of the largest displays of dolls and teddy bears in the world, as well as the largest known research library of related books. About 3,000 pieces – many limited edition or one-of-a-kind – from around the world are displayed in three galleries. You'll find book-character dolls and teddy bears, from Pooh to Paddington, and ones that represent the ethnic groups that settled California, historical figures, movie stars (who knew there were Leonardo DiCaprio and Kate Winslet bears?) and so much more.

Ty Warner Sea Center, atop Stearns Wharf.

Santa Barbara is... Childlike

233